Digital driving growth

Summary

Infosys' (INFO) reported robust Q3FY22 revenue numbers. Q3FY22 revenues increased +6.3%/+20.9% QoQ/YoY. This is despite Q3 being seasonally weak. Hence, the company has revised its guidance upwards from 16.5-17.5% YoY for FY22 to 19.5%-20.0% YoY. We believe this guidance is conservative considering the demand environment and we expect Infy to surpass its guided revenues (up 21.5% YoY). We believe the revenue growth will be spilled over the next few quarters and hence we expect 19.0% CAGR growth over FY21-FY24. Infy has maintained its EBIT margin guidance of 22-24% for FY22E. We expect the company's margins to gradually improve over FY22E-FY24E. Hence, we maintain our BUY rating on the stock with a target price of Rs 2245 (28x FY24 EPS).

Key Highlights and Investment Rationale

■ Digital and client mining driving growth

Infosys is seeing robust growth and has won 25 large deals of over US$50 million leading to large deal wins of US$2.5 billion (of which 44% is net new). In addition, the company's investment in cloud (COBOLT) is driving digital (58.5% revenues is from digital tech) revenue growth. This coupled with healthy client mining, multi-year tech growth and increase in hiring (from 45000 fresher to 55000) indicate strong revenue growth in coming quarters.

■ Operating margins to improve gradually

Q3FY22 margins were impacted by promotion, wage hike (-80 bps) and lower utilization (-40 bps) partially offset by currency and operating leverage. Going forward, we expect margins to 110 bps over FY22E-FY24 led by revenue growth, pyramid rationalization, lower subcon cost and offshoring (which the company is seeing secular trend).
